Presentation

The implementation of a quality management system under ISO 9001: 2015 is an investment and effort which is very profitable for organizations, as it gives them a competitive advantage over the others, as well as representing an improvement in their internal efficiency. The requirements of ISO 9001 are applicable to any company, regardless of size or activity.

It is important that all staff of the organization are involved in the Quality Management System as it is a very useful tool to enable the company to achieve the following benefits:

- Improve its image by making it easier to meet deadlines and optimizing human and material costs.
- Gaining market share thanks to the trust generated among customers and consumers.
- Improve its efficiency, in turn increasing the motivation and stimulation of the staff heading a team project, reducing to a minimum the risk of not meeting its obligations before the client.
- Measure the effectiveness of its management system in line with international standards through third party certification.
- Establish the foundation through continuously improving their internal processes and strengthening the ability of the organization to achieve strategic goals.
- Improve the rating for qualifying for tenders and grants.
